

Trying to get noticed?

Need your resume to stand out?

Let OfficeTraining.com and Pinnacle Computer Services help. We can provide the training you need to compete in today's fast changing job market.

These days many employers won't even consider your resume unless you can demonstrate that you're ready to go to work in today's modern office. That means being proficient in the latest software applications or having the certifications to prove you can do the job. We at Office Training can help you get that valuable knowledge.

Who We Are:

Pinnacle Computer Services was organized in 1988 to provide local and Tri-State businesses with current technology in the computer industry. During the past 12 years, PCS has added many services to its offerings including networking, web development and programming. PCS continues to grow with the demand of the computer industry.

Pinnacle is your all-in-one computer consulting partner. Pinnacle's objective is to develop long-term partnerships with its customers by providing turn-key solutions, education and other services.

OfficeTraining.com evolved from the realization that training had become one of the fastest growing areas for Pinnacle Computer Services. To better serve our customers who are interested in training, we now dedicate officetraining.com as the sole place to get all training information. Now you can visit OfficeTraining.com and get exactly the information you want -- information about training options, courses and certifications.

What we offer:

We offer an extensive package of training options ranging from full day classes to half day workshops to accommodate your differing schedules and needs. We can provide the preparation you need to take the leading certifications including CompTIA and Microsoft certifications.
